

Carole Ann MacDonald

Monday, August 9, 2010

6:00-9:00 pm

at Brookens Auditorium

(located on the lower level of Brookens Building, One University Plaza, Springfield, IL 62703)

Special education teacher, educational advocate, and adult with autism shares her experiences teaching children with autism and her success being on the spectrum.

Carole Ann MacDonald is a celebrated professional from Toronto, Canada, who works with youth with autism and is on the spectrum herself. She will be speaking about her experiences of teaching youth with autism and what strategies she has found that work best in the classroom. She will also share the challenges she has faced and now her success as an adult with autism. She has a Master's in Education and has received awards for her work with her students. Speaking to parents of youth with autism and to those who work with them, she will share her knowledge, not only to inform but also to give the message of hope.

- Free to attend
- No childcare provided
- Presentation appropriate for parents, professionals, educators, siblings, and individuals with autism ages 16+
- For additional information contact:

Jaclyn Peterson, ASACIC , 217-241-2023

or

Katie Bates, TAP at 217-525-8332

